

LYNX
CAPITAL

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to build an institutional-grade digital asset reserve and a globally scalable entertainment portfolio – under one publicly traded platform ($FKST → $LYXX)

WHO WE ARE

Lynx Capital is a next-generation investment holding company building value through two high-growth verticals:

A world-class film financing & production ecosystem led by former Paramount executives, and Bitcoin reserve strategy.

The Lynx Capital Opportunity

Dual-sector exposure: Digital assets + Hollywood production

High-margin, scalable models
Low correlation revenue streams

Built-in global appeal in both bitcoin and entertainment

Massive investor interest in companies holding BTC as a strategic reserve

C-SUITE

Bitcoin Reserve Strategy

Why Bitcoin?

Globally recognized store of value

Scarcity-driven appreciation potential

Increasing institutional adoption

Non-correlated asset class

Our Plan

Establish a multi-billion dollar Bitcoin reserve

Execute buys strategically over time

Utilize BTC as the company's core treasury asset

Increase market visibility and investor appeal

Value

BTC holdings provide hard-value backing

Enhances liquidity and institutional attention

Catalyst for uplisting and long-term valuation growth

Bitcoin (BTC) price predictions for year-end 2025, 2030 and 2035

"Start of year" refers to the closing price of BTC on 1 Jan 2025. Forecasts for the end of 2025, 2030 and 2035 were calculated using the truncated mean. All prices are in USD per BTC.

A Bitcoin Treasury Allocation for Businesses

Benefits

Material reduction of counterparty risk, depending on the custody solution

Cheap insurance agent fiat currency debasement

Access to a liquid market, open 24/7/365 for payroll, supplier payments, and other business expenses

Drawbacks

Adds short-term volatility to the treasury's portfolio

Bitcoin being its own asset class adds complexity to portfolio

100% self-custody means responsibility for funds

Hedging portfolio volatility introduces new counterparty
